A table for generations to come

- Normann Copenhagen presents the Nord Table, designed by Generous Design

The Danish design company Generous Design has created a table for Normann Copenhagen. It is made of solid oak and has a simple, Scandinavian expression. Nord is a table of contrasts that is light as well as robust in its design. The table has a simple and stable construction that supports the tabletop in an elegant manner.

The designer has used contrasting sharp and soft lines, adding both edge and warmth to the table. The tabletop's chamfered edges and the angle of the legs create a line that virtually lifts the tabletop up and makes it appear floating, while at the same time revealing the construction and round legs of the table.

Generous Design says: "The table is a natural gathering place for nice experiences over dinner. A table is special, as it brings people together and creates both connections and room for them. I wanted to make a classic and contemporary table. It had to be durable and robust but also have an airy feel to it. The Nord Table is made for fellowship, for good friends and family across generations."

The Nord Table is an ideal gathering place for the living room or kitchen. It is a beautiful and functional table for both everyday use and festive occasions. Nord is available in both a round and a rectangular version, making it suitable for many types of homes.
